

PROGRESS MADE IN CENSUS COUNT

Most of Cities Already Know
1920 Figures—Progress
Made on States.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The 1920 population of 163 of the 225 cities and towns which in 1910 had more than 25,000 persons has been announced by the census bureau. Good progress also has been made in compiling the total population of the states.

Of the 50 cities which had more than 100,000 population in 1910, only 12 remain whose 1920 figures have been announced. These are Philadelphia, Cleveland, Detroit, Kansas City, Mo., Providence, Rochester, New Haven, Birmingham, Richmond, Omaha, Fall River and Grand Rapids.

Twelve cities have advanced into the 25,000 class of those thus far announced. Arranged in the order of their size they are: Akron, Ohio; Tulsa, Okla.; Hartford, Conn.; Youngstown, O.; Springfield, Mass.; Trenton, N. J.; Salt Lake City, Utah; W. J. Norfolk, Va.; Wilmington, Del.; and Kansas City, Kan.

Of the 50 cities having from 50,000 to 100,000 population in 1910, the 1920 population of all but 12 has been announced. These are: New Bedford, Mass.; Reading, Pa.; Des Moines, Iowa; N. Y.; Houston, Tex.; Troy, N. Y.; Fort Worth, Texas; Savannah, Oklahoma City, Charleston, S. C.; Holyoke, Mass., and South Bend, Ind.

Twenty-six cities announced have advanced into the 25,000 to 50,000 class. Population of only 38 of the 120 cities having been 25,000 and 50,000 in 1910, remain to be announced, and 47 cities having less than 25,000 in 1910 have thus far advanced into the 25,000 to 50,000 class, while one, Clinton, Mo., has shown a decrease and dropped below 25,000.

Russell's Rebuke Bitter, Declares Governor Brewer

Mississippi Democrats have just finished the largest state convention in 25 years. It was the largest because of whispered reports that the Wilson administration might be criticized and not given hearty endorsement, and in order that there could be no doubt of the state's approval of Wilsonian policies and the league of nations, Democrats assembled from every section. These statements were made by former Gov. Earl Brewer, of Clarksville, who was in Memphis Thursday, after attending the Jackson convention.

The Mississippi delegation goes to the San Francisco convention unimpaired except that it votes as a unit. The four delegates are staunch Wilson supporters, and efforts to include Gov. Russell, former Senator Vardaman or former Gov. Bilbo were beaten by decisive majorities.

According to Gov. Brewer the rebuke administered to Gov. Russell and others belonging to that faction, was as bitter as any movement in Mississippi politics in many years. Gov. Russell's home county omitted his name from the list of delegates to the state meeting, even defeating a motion to add him to the list at the last moment. The absence of the governor's name from the state convention roll in Mississippi set a precedent and gives an illustration of the reversal of political favorites.

Wilson's administration, his league of nations plan and other policies were given hearty endorsement by Gov. Brewer. He declared the league of nations plan the only salvation against the tendency to bleed the world's resources to provide great armies and navies for settlement of disputes by brute force.

The governor was reluctant to venture an opinion on the probable Democratic nominee. Rumors from other sources in Mississippi, however, show that prior to the convention there was a decided sentiment in favor of A. Mitchell Palmer. Recent reports indicate a switching to McAdoo, with Cox as his running mate. It is entirely probable this will be the vote of the Mississippi delegation at San Francisco.

Increasing the chances of the Democrats for victory, says Gov. Brewer. He bases this on the ground of Harding's record of being a stand-pat enthusiast and having the stigma of the old guard against him. To elect Harding would give a president who would be completely subsidized by the old faction, says Gov. Brewer. Lowden would have been a much stronger candidate, he continued, and as for Wood or Johnson, neither could have a chance.

The Clarksville visitor deplored the announcement that John Sharp Williams would retire from public life. He is a great admirer of the present senator, and believes it would be a blow to the state to lose his services. He characterizes the announcement, however, as positive.

MEXICAN CONFESSES TO JEWELRY THEFTS

Rudolph Nieto, 33, well-educated Mexican, of New Orleans, La., confessed Tuesday to Inspector of Detectives Griffin, following his arrest, to the theft of jewelry valued at nearly $1,000 from his employer, a jewelry merchant of New Orleans, and he will be held for Louisiana authorities. Nieto was taken into custody by Detective Sergt. Joyce and Gwaltney, while in his room at the Y. M. C. A. He said he had been in Memphis for two weeks. He had 17 pawn tickets from Memphis shops covering the sale of watches and other jewelry.

Nieto was formerly a salesman for Coleman E. Adler, jeweler of New Orleans, from whom it is alleged he stole the jewelry.

AGENT BLAMES FARMERS FOR TIPPING SYSTEM

Farmers were charged with creating the "tipping system," whereby the practice of bribing railroad brakemen and agents to get live stock cars, has become general, by J. L. Harris, general livestock agent for the Chicago & Alton railroad, in a talk before the annual meeting of the Co-operative Live Stock Shipping association of Illinois, at Chicago this week. The association demanded that the practice be stopped.

Mr. Harris said that the railroads are short 30,000 live stock cars, and that many cars had been diverted to other uses. Shorter trains, he said, would greatly facilitate unloading at the central markets, and he urged co-operative shippers to order livestock trains.
